

Food Resources for HealthLink Patients in Bucks County

If you or someone you know is experiencing difficulty affording groceries due to the recent interruption in SNAP (Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program) benefits, help is available. The following list includes food pantries and community programs throughout Bucks County that provide free food and household essentials to individuals and families in need. Each pantry has its own hours and eligibility guidelines, so we encourage you to call ahead before visiting. No one should have to choose between dental care and a meal — please use these resources to help keep yourself and your family healthy.
